

Missional Conversations

As I was prayer walking this past week I was meditating on a quote I read in a book (The Hole in our Gospel) that paraphrased is more or less like “God can’t steer you if you are not moving”. This directly challenged my faith and I began to wonder about how in all this time I have been asking the Lord to steer our lives, to guide us, to show us the way, what kind of leaps has my faith taken lately? How has our faith moved us? And if I may, as I hope this can be a blessing to you as well, let me ask you how has your faith moved you in recent days? I believe God wants to lead us all and guide our steps, but what steps can he steer if we take none?

So, I started driving for Uber in order to have temporary support while we are in the states. As I don’t think any company would hire me just for a couple months, a fact I obviously wouldn’t conceal as that would be lying, Uber was a perfect solution. How does this tie to moving in faith? Well as I felt challenged to ‘move’ in faith, I have been talking more to people and asking them if they currently attend a church. So far in the context of conversation, (as they ask me what brought me to Michigan and I share my story) I have been able to invite three people to a local church in Dearborn, MI and also share about our mission to Greece. But want to know something very cool? Two of them have told me they would like to make a donation to our ministry in Greece!! I don't know if they will end up going to church or if they will donate to our ministry in Greece, although I really hope so. I don't know and yet I took a step of faith and moved; I let my faith move me and hopefully help others' faith move as well. However, the really cool thing is that now I can pray for God to steer my steps and the steps of those I shared my faith with. You can also join me in praying for James, Shannon, and Dhavita!

Important Updates

--We are going on a set-up trip to Athens!

As the time of our departure gets closer and closer, our Area Director asked us to go on a set up trip at the end of October. We will be able to look at and prayer walk in potential neighborhoods to live in, have meetings with non-profit organizations that are potential partners, work on visa options, and hopefully have initial connections with people of peace--maybe even through getting to play soccer.

--We are now at 60% of our funding!

If you would like to partner financially with the ministry in Athens, please let us know clicking this link: www.fmchr.ch/rosado

--We are currently planning to be in Michigan through at least November.

If you would like us to speak at your church or with your small group, please let us know!

Celebrate With Us

--Ellia turns TWO this Sunday! We are so thankful for her sweet joy!
--We had an amazing week of prayer! We were able to pray for all of you, for Athens, and for direction, resting and trusting in God.
--We had the opportunity to participate in a Freedom Forum and to preach about God's heart for freedom on Freedom Sunday.
--A church in the area gave us space in their building in order to work uninterrupted during the day.

Pray with Us

--Pray for our set-up trip: for good meetings with possible partners, for discernment as we pray looking at neighborhoods and visa possibilities, for God-ordained initial connections
--for wisdom as we continue to maintain healthy rhythms of prayer after our week of prayer "reset"
--Pray for folks to decide to join us on this wonderful mission of God and partner with us in prayer or financially

It's All Greek to Me!

It's getting real ya'll! With our set-up trip weeks away, the reality that we need to learn Greek is hitting hard. Click on the picture to see the cheat sheet we're studying!
