

Meet Your Free Methodist Missionaries

Dan & Hope
Owsley
Brazil

Dan and Hope have served in three regions of Brazil over the past 31 years (starting churches and organizing conferences (clusters of churches)). Their ministry has included teaching Bible and Christian doctrine to church leaders, mentoring men and women in ministry, sharing the gospel, and discipling new believers. Over the last seven years, Dan and Hope have served in Brasilia, the nation's capital and fourth-largest metropolitan area in the country. During this period Hope edited a book of John Wesley writings in Portuguese. Dan engaged in reaching people for Christ through weekly visits to small businesses and home meetings. They were also a part of a church planting team, mentored pastors in the region and teaching seminary courses to church leaders. In 2020 they moved to the state of São Paulo to help restructure the Free Methodist seminary. Both Hope and Dan are teaching there, and Dan is acting as academic coordinator. They are both involved in their local church, and Hope is leading several Bible studies. She is also part of a team adapting the Roots curriculum for Free Methodist Sunday school curriculum throughout Latin America.
