Bishop Adel Haroun

The Free Methodist Church in Egypt

Origins

In 1899 Herbert E. Randall of the Canadian Holiness Movement Church began work in the city of Asyut. Revivals broke out in villages and towns nearby. Other missionaries joined him, and the work developed into an independent conference. In 1959 the Canadian denomination and the conference in Egypt united with the Free Methodist Church.

Present Ministries

Impact Middle East (IME) has more than 4,000 house churches in several active networks. In partnership with established churches, the focus is on the discipleship of new converts and the raising up of leaders.

Pray for:

- cooperation between existing FM churches and the house-church initiatives fostered by IME
- the development of discipleship and training materials in Arabic, which historically have been in short supply
